

Pre-Work Creams

Before and during work

Pre-work creams support the skin's natural barrier by building a film or by strengthening the upper layers of the skin. Understanding the respective requirements of any job and selecting the right skin care product allows for effective prevention for all your employees. Our before and during work creams improve the natural regeneration of the skin, feeling comfortable as applied while not interacting with working materials and substances. They are the perfect solution for your workforce.
